

Speak Up Policy

Policy statement

Collins Foods Limited (Collins Foods or Company) and its subsidiaries (Group) are committed to conducting business in accordance with our values and fostering a culture of transparency and integrity as outlined in the Group Code of Conduct and other policies and standards.

Collins Foods expects you to raise a concern when you suspect unlawful, unethical or otherwise improper conduct that involves the Company and may result in a serious violation of applicable laws and regulations, our Group Code of Conduct, or other policies and procedures. This assists Collins Foods to take a timely action to protect the Company, our employees, our customers and our other stakeholders.

You are encouraged and expected to speak up about conduct that you feel is not in line with any laws, the expected behaviours of your team and/or leaders, or our values as outlined in our Group Code of Conduct and policies. This Speak Up Policy (Policy) provides a mechanism whereby employees and others can report their concerns freely and without fear of repercussion.

Objectives of the Policy

The objectives of this Policy are to:

- (a) encourage disclosure of potential misconduct;
- (b) help deter potential misconduct, in line with the Company's risk management and governance frameworks;
- (c) ensure that individuals who disclose potential misconduct can do so safely, securely and with confidence that they will be protected and supported;
- (d) ensure that disclosures are dealt with appropriately and on a timely basis;
- (e) provide transparency around the Company's framework for receiving, handling and investigating disclosures; and
- (f) meet the Company's legal and regulatory obligations.

Collins Foods will not tolerate anyone being discouraged from speaking up or being subject to detriment because they want to speak up or they have done so. Disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment or engagement, may be imposed on anyone shown to have caused detriment to a person because they want to, or have, spoken up.

Who does this Policy apply to?

This Policy applies to Collins Foods Group, including current and former:

- (a) employees or contractors;
- (b) suppliers of goods or services to the Company (and their employees or contractors); and
- (c) officers or directors of the Company.

What is speaking up?

Anyone with information about Potential Misconduct is encouraged to report that information to an Eligible Recipient (i.e. speak up) through an appropriate channel. The Eligible Recipients are set out below under the 'How to speak up' section below and include any person defined as an 'eligible recipient' under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act).

What is Potential Misconduct under this Policy?

The Policy is aimed at reporting Potential Misconduct that fails to comply with the Company's policies, values or applicable laws. Some examples of such misconduct include but are not limited to:

- (a) breach of the law, including employment, workplace, discrimination, or safety laws;
- (b) breach of the Company's Group Code of Conduct or Policies;
- (c) bullying, harassment (including sexual harassment) and discrimination;
- (d) human rights violations, such as forced labour or human trafficking;
- (e) conduct endangering health and safety or causing damage to the environment;
- (f) fraud, theft, bribery, or any other form of criminal activity;
- (g) dishonest or unethical behaviour;
- (h) conflicts of interest, including those relating to outside business interests, relationships, improper payments and donations;
- (i) improper use or disclosure of Collins Foods confidential information;
- (j) insider trading;
- (k) conduct that may cause harm to the public or damage to the Company's reputation;
- (l) retaliating against or causing detriment to a person who Speaks Up or otherwise engages in any activity protected by law or company policy; and
- (m) deliberate concealment of the above.

It's important that you have reasonable grounds for your concern and can provide information that indicates a failure to comply with the Company's policies, values or applicable laws. Making knowingly false reports may lead to disciplinary action.

Potential Misconduct is any suspected or actual misconduct or improper state of affairs or circumstances in relation to Collins Foods or an employee or an officer of Collins Foods. You should speak up even if you are unsure if something is Potential Misconduct.

What should you not use the Speak Up Policy for?

This policy does not apply to misconduct that is solely a personal workplace grievance, including interpersonal conflicts. Please refer to the Company's Grievance Resolution Procedure (internal policy) which deals specifically with personal work-related grievances. Examples of personal work-related grievances include:

- (a) an interpersonal conflict between you and a colleague;
- (b) a decision relating to your engagement, transfer or promotion;
- (c) a decision relating to the terms and conditions of your engagement; or
- (d) a decision to suspend, terminate or otherwise discipline you.

Potential Misconduct does not generally include personal work-related grievances - grievances relating to your employment that have implications for you personally (such as a disagreement between you and another employee or a decision about your promotion). Generally, these grievances should be raised with your manager or HR representative.

You can also speak up to:

- (a) a legal practitioner for the purposes of obtaining legal advice or legal representation about the whistleblower requirements;
- (b) a confidential advisor (vertrouwenspersoon);
- (c) regulatory bodies, such as:

Australia

- (i) Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC);

The Netherlands

- (ii) House for Whistleblowers (Huis voor Klokkenluiders);
- (iii) Authority for Consumers & Markets (Autoriteit Consument & Markt - ACM);

Anyone authorised to receive disclosures under this section is an Eligible Recipient. There are certain requirements for making public interest disclosures or emergency disclosures and it is strongly recommended that you contact the Company's nominated Whistleblower Protection Officer, or obtain independent legal advice in the first instance, to ensure you understand those requirements. While public disclosure may have an adverse impact on some of the key policy principles, such as confidentiality, the whistleblower will also be protected against retaliation during and after the public disclosure.

Can I speak up anonymously?

You can choose to speak up in a confidential manner, anonymously or in a partially anonymous manner.

You can make a confidential disclosure where your identity is known only to the Whistleblower Protection Officer and other specified persons involved in conducting the investigation and reporting the potential misconduct. This is the preferred option as it allows the matter to be fully investigated whilst providing you with ongoing protection and support.

You can also choose to be partially anonymous where only the Whistleblower Protection Officer is aware of your identity, and a pseudonym is used so your identity is not known to others. This may create some limitations to the investigation process.

You can make an anonymous disclosure if you do not want to reveal your identity. This is the least preferred option as it may not be possible to investigate the report if the Company is unable to contact you for further information and it may make it difficult to offer you the same level of practical support if the Company does not know your identity.

How will your report be dealt with?

All speak up reports will be taken seriously. Once a report is received by our third-party provider, you will receive an acknowledgement. All reports of Potential Misconduct will be investigated by a Whistleblower Protection Officer on a timely basis. Appropriate corrective action will be taken as warranted by the investigation. The Whistleblower Protection Officer is responsible for the following:

- (a) co-ordinating the investigation into any report received from an Eligible Whistleblower under the Corporations Act and in accordance with the applicable legislation;
- (b) documenting and handling all matters in relation to the report and investigation; and
- (c) finalising all investigations.

The Whistleblower Protection Officer will, at all times, have direct and unrestricted access to reasonable financial, legal and operational assistance when this is required for any investigation.

A person who is the subject of an investigation is entitled to be:

- (d) informed as to the substance of any adverse comment that may be included in a report or other document arising out of any such investigation; and
- (e) given a reasonable opportunity to put their case to the Whistleblower Protection Officer who is investigating the report.

The person speaking up (whistleblower) will be kept appropriately informed of the progress of action taken in respect of their report. At the conclusion of the investigation, they will be informed the investigation has been concluded. Feedback and follow-up are provided within 90 days.

Will my report be treated confidentially?

We take our obligation to protect your confidentiality very seriously. The Company will maintain the confidentiality of your identity unless disclosure is authorised or required under law, or you consent to the disclosure of your identity.

Information obtained from you will only be disclosed to the extent reasonably necessary to investigate the matter and the Company will take all reasonable steps to reduce the risk that your identity will be identified as a result of the disclosure.

Reporting

The Whistleblower Protection Officer will report the findings and actions directly to the Chair of the Board and the People, Culture and Nomination Committee (PCNC). In cases where the Group CEO, or a member of the Board or PCNC has been accused of reportable conduct, or where they have a close personal relationship with the person against whom the accusation is made, they will be excluded from the reporting process.

Further protections under this Policy

Some concerns raised using this Policy may also be a ‘disclosable matter’ in:

- (a) Australia: under the ‘Whistleblower Protection’ provisions of the Corporations Act;
- (b) The Netherlands: under the Whistleblower Protection Act 2023 (Wet bescherming klokkenluiders);
- (c) Germany: under the Whistleblower Protection Act 2023 (Hinweisgeberschutzgesetz).

If so, and you meet specific requirements, you may receive additional protections under those laws, and your report is known as a ‘protected disclosure’.

The Taxation Administration Act 1953 (Cth) also provides special protection for disclosures about a breach of any Australian tax law by the Company or misconduct in relation to the Company’s tax affairs. Refer to Appendix 1 for further information regarding these protections.
